Thanksgiving Day Observed in Various Ways by Janesville People.

With the holiday spirit of thankfulness and good cheer invading gatherings of all kinds, Janesville observed Thanksgiving day with the great American family dinner and various forms of entertainment in the afternoon and evening. All churches were well-lit for the special Thanksgiving services Thursday day morning.

Dancing, cards, family reunions, special programs at the churches, morning and informal entertainments made up the program for the day. The Y. M. C. A. marathon in the morning was a feature and the only public event. The observance of the holiday began Wednesday night when the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen gave their annual dancing party in the armory, the affair equalling the one of other years from every standpoint. Three hundred couples attended, many of them remaining until the last number, at 8 a. m. Thursday. The old, young and middle-aged danced to music furnished by Hatch's seven-piece orchestra.

Turkey Is Popular.

Members of the Lakota club enjoyed a turkey dinner in their club-rooms, Wednesday night. Bowlers from the Wooten Mills and Cadillac teams held a banquet at the Grand hotel.

Several thousand pounds of turkeys, chickens, ducks and geese were cooked and served with the trimmings in homes throughout the city. It was a great day for Little Willie and his folks enjoyed it. More than 20 couples attended the formal dancing party of the Country club in Apollo hall, Thursday night. Oscar Hoff's orchestra furnished the music. Refreshments were served from 11 to 12 o'clock. Many were here from neighboring cities to attend the affair.

At the Theatres

Performing sensation, wire feats and stunts, Charles Celesto, who appears on the week-end bill at the Myers, commencing Thursday, is a quiet individual in private life. Mr. Celesto is a writer, his themes embracing sentimental poems and philosophical essays.

This actor-poet has a sheet of letters from distinguished persons, including President Harding, ex-President Wilson, and Premier Lloyd George, in whose honor he has written and published verses. At the outset of the war, he wrote a prophetic poem that has come true in a remarkable manner.

He has been on the stage since the age of 11. He was born at Quincy, Ill. He has traveled all over the world and has played before royalty.

Scholarship from the opening with Charles Celesto's play, which is given to the last play on the silver sheet of Priscilla Dean in the "Conflict" the week-end show at the Myers theatre is also part.

"Conflict" is an intense study of human emotions. It is admirably planned and the characters are true to life and the plot is well motivated. The drama is gripping, but not more so than five herculean thrills of existence in a northern lumber camp.

Celesto—Back of the finish that stamps this act as finished, is the desire of Charles Celesto to publish his own poems. His performance is a sensation, including a 16-foot drop while standing on the wire.

Hirschhorn's Alpine Slings.—A family of five giving delightful variety amid a battleship setting that appeals to the lover of the sea. A little chap filled with rascals and a dandy maid.

Orr & Brown.—An attractive couple of "nuts" that draw a certain call.

There is no substitute for it!

In order to do your best work, you must be healthy. You must sleep soundly at night, your nerves must be strong, steady, and under perfect control.

If you are accustomed to drinking tea or coffee with your meals or between meals, you may be loading yourself with a very great handicap. Your nervous system may be stimulated beyond what is natural for you.

For tea and coffee contain thein and caffeine. These are drugs, as any doctor can tell you. They are known to irritate the nervous system by their action and to cause restlessness and insomnia, which prevent the proper recuperation of the vital forces.

If you want to be at your best, capable of doing the very best work that lies in you, why not stop drinking tea and coffee? Drink Postum, the rich, satisfying beverage made from scientifically roasted cereals.

Postum contains absolutely no drugs of any kind, but in flavor tastes much like rich coffee. It helps nerve and brain structure by letting you get sound, restful sleep.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cap by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

EXCAVATION MACHINE DAMAGED BY BLAZE

Ignition of leaking gasoline caused a fire that did considerable damage Friday morning to the gasoline engine showing outfit operated by the Frank P. Caryl Construction company, Wausau, in building the main outlet sewer east of the Monterey bridge. The frame shack in which the show engine was housed was burned and the motor was damaged.

Y. W. C. A. FEELS 70.

Through the work of the five Girl Reserve clubs of the local Young Women's Christian association, 13 families in Janesville have been helped by their homes brighter on Thanksgiving. Everyone of the members of the various clubs brought donations of groceries, vegetables, candy, clothing and meat to the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Misses Edna Beardsley and Fern Constance apportioned the donations to the various families. The total number of adults and children fed were 70. There were many chickens, J. P. School having given 12, so that each family had meat.

Rev. Henry Willmann and Mrs. A. E. Levey, chairman of the Girl Reserve committee took the baskets around to the families, Wednesday night.

A Thanksgiving dinner was served to the inmates of the Rock county poor farm and asylum Thursday afternoon.

THE GAZETTE'S PLATFORM

Build a Community Center and Convention Hall for the city; for athletics, conventions, musical concerts, civic meetings, and have it belong to the whole city. This is to be done by a program to provide all music and entertainment for the people the year around. Complete the city plan. Make more parks and playgrounds and provide at least one large park where the whole people may use and enjoy.

Keep the city looking bright and clean with paint and the streets clean and the sidewalks new. Keep the city looking bright and clean with paint and the streets clean and the sidewalks new.

HELP FOR THE MILITARY ORGANIZATIONS

Janesville is in a fair way to lose the two splendid companies of the Wisconsin State Guard unless there is some special effort made to save them for the city. The situation is that the cavalry company expended $1,700 on preparation of quarters at the fair grounds and that while the state has advanced the money, it must be paid back. The city provides $1,500 a year which is absorbed in rental by the fair association for the cavalry quarters. The companies represent an investment of over $150,000 by Wisconsin in equipment and a yearly payment to men and for supplies of nearly $20,000. This money is left in Janesville. Then, too, the benefit that accrues to the city in having these two organizations is not to be counted in dollars and cents. They provide a most excellent center for training, for discipline and for recreation as well as satisfactory work.

We ought to have these military companies more in the life of the city. Their aid should be enlisted for many public events. When the companies went to Camp Douglas the Kiwanis club had raised $300 to assist in looking after the boys. The Kiwanis also appointed a committee to see what could be done toward a permanent fund for the retention of the tank and cavalry companies in Janesville. The first attempt to secure something toward these funds is to be through a public entertainment by the Kiwanis club. But no matter how well that may be patronized, there is need for further effort and a general response to the demand that we maintain the long established reputation Janesville has had in the state military life. The first thing to do is to see that the largest sum possible is raised by the benefit entertainment. The next step is to enter upon a general campaign for what necessary funds are required for the preservation of the companies to the city.

May we not suggest that the city's privately owned, city repaired, free gas automobile, attempt the trip through Racine street?

PASSING OF TWO PIONEERS.

Two pioneers of the county last week joined the long list of the older people who have ceased labors on this earth during the present year. Thomas Clark, aged 81, of the town of Johnstown had been a resident there for 55 years, in itself an average lifetime. He was of that sturdy Scotch stock that nothing Nature held as defense could daunt. At Edgerton, Charles Dickerson, aged 89, a resident of that city since 1854, passed away. He was known by perhaps more people than any other of the older settlers in the county. His war record was of the best, his friends legion and no gathering of the last 50 years in all the community around Edgerton was allowed to go on without his presence. Almost up to the time of his death he was interested in all living, moving events and the people who helped make them. "I want to live as long as I am able to enjoy things," he said, a few months before he died. To these men who have been so long with us we pay the tribute of respect in life as well as in death. To them be great honor and peace.

One thing was overlooked in the list of those for which we should be thankful, there are so many people too poor to have an operation.

SENATOR LENROOT AND THE BEER BILL.

Inquiry has been made of the Gazette concerning the vote of Senator Lenroot on the beer bill—the bill that makes it illegal to manufacture beer and takes it out of the medicinal column. The senator was not in Washington at the time but his vote for the beer restriction bill as against the vote for the breweries cast by Senator LaFollette. In the Congressional Record upon roll call appears the following:

Mr. Curtis (when Mr. Lenroot's name was called). The Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Lenroot) is paired on this question with the Senator from New Hampshire (Mr. Moses). It is present, the Senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Lenroot) would vote "yes" and the Senator from New Hampshire (Mr. Moses) would vote "nay."

Medicinal beer received the high ball to move on when the president signed the bill Wednesday. It will soon be "spurious versensk."

Coddling violators of the liquor laws will not have a tendency to reduce repetitions of the offenses. Judge Maxfield's dictum that the prisoners will have to remain in jail at least on Sundays and holidays is bringing forth the paid up fines. The rest of the time can be spent in reg-

Taking Feminism to the Orient

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington, D. C.—A plan to maintain seven colleges for women in the Far East by American support, and especially by having each of these oriental colleges adopted by an American woman's college is now under way. A good deal of money has already been raised, and drives in all parts of the country are planned for this winter. A Washington drive was recently held under the patronage of women of high position in official society.

This plan represents an attempt on the part of western women to carry the movement for education and equal rights for women into that part of the world where masculine domination is most complete. In the Orient higher education for women was a thing unheard of until a few years ago. In addition to their seclusion, an almost hopeless handicap to higher education for women of India and China is laid in the early marriage customs of these countries. In India 10 per cent of the girls become mothers by the time they have reached 10 years of age, and 50 percent of them are mothers under the 15 years of age. It is to be remembered, too, that this is in a country where high caste women cannot be treated by male physicians, and where women doctors are almost unknown outside of mission stations. What the East Indian women have suffered in consequence need not be dwelt upon here, nor is it surprising under these conditions that but 1 per cent of India's 265,000,000 women can read.

In China more than 90 per cent of the women are illiterate. In Japan conditions are brighter, but unlike the men who go from the middle school to college and often from college to university, the Japanese girl's education stops with the middle school or even earlier. This is not surprising when it is recalled that the Japanese government supports 33 institutions of learning of University grade for men students and but one institution of college grade for all the girls of Japan. The few years the small schools maintained by church mission boards were the only educational provision which was made for the girls of the Orient. They began about 50 years ago, at about the time Vassar College was started, and at that time the boards were weak and insignificant organizations themselves. While the results of the schools established by the mission boards have been encouraging in the extreme, yet the individual boards are never able financially to establish colleges and high-grade medical schools. They have not the money to equip nor to run them. The mission boards realized the folly of trying to run poor sectarian schools, when by uniting their efforts they might establish strong union Christian colleges and give the girls of the Orient the same educational advantages the American girls enjoy. Accordingly the leading church boards of England, America and Canada united, in 1913, and established the first of these high-grade Union Christian Colleges.

The success which attended the Madras venture led to the organization of a committee for the purpose of securing cooperation among the women's church mission boards of the United States and Canada in their work along educational lines for the women of China, India and Japan. From the boards a joint committee on the Union Christian Colleges for the Women of the Orient was founded. Seven colleges were accepted to be the beneficiaries of the cooperative board. These are: Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China; Women's Christian College, Peking, China.

Mrs. Henry W. Peabody of Boston, Mass., was made chairman of the Building Committee for the cooperative boards, and after careful consideration of what native governments had done for the colleges—it should be stated that in every instance the native governments have given the warmest support to the embryo colleges—Mrs. Peabody and her committee found that it would require $3,000,000 to establish and equip the institutions on a self-running basis. The matter was then laid before the trustees of the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial Fund—a fund which was created by John D. Rockefeller in memory of his wife. The trustees of the Memorial Fund took the proposition of the colleges under consideration, and later proposed to the committee that if that body would raise $2,000,000 to the colleges, the Memorial Fund would contribute $1,000,000 of the $2,000,000 has already been paid in which amount was increased by a gift of $250,000 from the Memorial Fund.

The Building Committee is now planning through the church and club women of the country to raise the remaining $1,500,000 by a swift and concerted effort. The women's colleges of the United States have taken a keen interest in the seven oriental colleges. Traveler has adopted a sister college, the Yenching College at Peking, Yassau has adopted the college at Tokyo, Smith has adopted Ginling College, at Nanking, and Mount Holyoke has adopted the colleges at Madras, Vellore and Gilling. The college and church women throughout the country are cooperating with Mrs. Peabody and her committee in the plan whereby they hope to raise the remainder of the $2,000,000 within a short time.

Briefly outlined the plan is that a hundred pledges for the Women's Union Christian Colleges during the next 90 days. In many cities the women for subscriptions will be made in 2 or 3 weeks prior to a day that is to be called "College Day." The effort for subscriptions will culminate at a luncheon which is to be held on a date selected by the respective towns, when the pledges will be turned in. In other cities there will be no organization and those who are interested will give through their church and college organizations. All subscriptions will be sent to the Building Committee, 300 Ford Building, Boston, Mass.

EXPERIENCE.
This much I know, a friend or two
Can compensate for twenty foes.
And summer with her skies of blue
Makes up for every storm that blows.
What though the failures hurt and sting
And fill man's days with dark distress,
The bitter troubles I take wings
Before the joy of one success.

This much I've learned, always to smile
Is not within the power of man.
There shall be days when fate will smile
And failure haunt his fondest plan;
And yet if those who know him best
Rejoice in him and gladly share
His days of trial and of loss,
He need not falter or despair.

Friends seldom travel with the throng.
'Tis not the many who are true.
The thoughtful ones are few and far
And neither the good man tries to do
And whether he shall rise at evening's close
That one staunch friend makes up for all
The hate and anger of his foes.

Dear Roy—Why is it that when I read one of the modern novels and come across a sentence that runs like this: "His tanned face and easy gait bespoke a man of the great outdoors." I invariably think of the person described as one afflicted with a telegraph company in the capacity of messenger?

Who's Who Today

Baron Takahashi.

Baron Takahashi, the new head of the Japanese cabinet, takes the post at a time when his wide experience and equipment are badly needed in order to carry out the discussion of the far eastern questions before the Washington conference. The selection at Tokyo hinged largely upon his equipment for meeting the many questions now presented at Washington. As minister of finance in the Hara cabinet, Baron Takahashi was a close friend and political adherent of Premier Hara and a supporter of his views favorable to the conference. His attitude toward the conference was to some extent indicated in a statement to the cabinet a few days ago, when he declared to the ministers that expenses in all lines must be reduced, as Japan was facing a deficit of $3,000,000,000.

The Imperial preference for the post of premier in succession to Premier Hara, who was assassinated November 4, and the logic of the political situation, both appeared to point to Marquis Saloni, one of Japan's elder statesmen, as the man for the premiership. He had received the highest honors of the empire, the honor of the appointment of Saloni, but the latter's seventy-seven years and his ill-health caused him to decline.

Baron Takahashi is one of Japan's most distinguished financiers, with wide foreign acquaintance and relationships. He was for some time president of the Yokohama specie bank and governor of the Bank of Japan of Japan. In finance in the years 1913-14 and took the finance portfolio again upon the formation of the Hara cabinet in the fall of 1918.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

A "Drama of Indecency."
George Henry Payne in the Forum: New York has been the home of the hottest of the drama of indecency. Week after week plays are produced which are as flagrant as anything offered by the worst Paris playhouses, and far beyond the drama of the redoubtable in morality. There is not even the saving grace of wit or humor, though the easiest enunciation to wring from the easygoing critics is "brilliant."

Even John Drew, who once appeared in plays that one might say were written for him, has been playing in New York in a drama, called "The Circle," by W. Somerset Maugham, which is about as vile a literary production as one could imagine. It is more insidious than most of the French farces, for the same is good and the author has a technical facility not unlike that of Oscar Wilde.

But even the New York managers did not dare produce the play in full, some of the barest and most indecent of the scenes being omitted by the actors, who play their parts without art or discrimination, from John Drew down.

THE PREVENTION OF GOITRE

In the United States, particularly in certain regions such as the Great Lakes basin, and the Cascade mountain region of Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia, in Canada, simple goitre prevails among girls from 10 to 17 years of age, the cause being unknown. Since the cause is unknown, there are innumerable speculative theories which ascribe the cause to something in the drinking water or to the food.

Dr. David Marine, of New York, and O. P. Kimball, of Cleveland, whose great success in preventing simple goitre among the school children in Akron, O., has been referred to here, have recently given a supplementary report of their investigation and I draw therefrom the facts in this article. They find that, although the ultimate cause of simple goitre is unknown, the immediate cause is not anything present in the drinking water or the food, but something lacking, namely, iodine. They suggest that certain types of infection which increase the iodine needs of the body may be a cause. Anyhow goitre is prevalent where the pursuit of drinking water is used, as in Portland, Ore., and Seattle and Tacoma, Wash.

Dr. Marine and Kimball give these results of two and one-half years' observation of school girls in Akron: Of 2,190 pupils, taking two grams of sodium iodide twice weekly, only five have developed goitre. Of 2,395 pupils not taking this preventive 435 have developed thyroid enlargement. Of 1,182 pupils who had some enlargement of the thyroid gland, the prevention of goitre was instituted, 773 showed a decrease in the enlargement of the neck; while of 1,048 pupils with some enlargement at the time the treatment was started, 245 showed a decrease in enlargement. These data pretty thoroughly establish the prophylactic treatment for goitre.

Dr. Kimball and Marine find that there is no danger worthy of consideration associated with the administration of the small amount of iodine or iodides which have proved so effective. The treatment not only prevents, but in many cases brings about cure of simple goitre. Grams are given to most laymen and some doctors, and the amount is approximately 15 grains. And an ample daily use of sodium iodide, best taken dissolved in at least a pint of drinking water, is one grain. This quantity should be taken.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
The Healthfulness of Basketball. We are high school girls, and play basketball. Some people are always advising us that it is dangerous or harmful to play basketball, and they say it will surely prove harmful in later life, if not right away.

Answer.—Basketball is not a violent game, so it is impossible to refer to it as "being unwell." I assure you that basketball and other every-day activities of games, such as swimming, walking, tennis, skating and the like, may be played with perfect safety and benefit in the most dangerous situation. In fact, it is rather harmful to a woman's health for her to be idle and to do nothing but sit on the sofa and read or to do nothing but sit on the sofa and read.

Kindly advise whether a young girl who wishes to gain weight should drink root beer as a tonic, or if not, what she should drink.
Answer.—Plants of any kind growing in a room absorb carbon dioxide and give off oxygen, hence they tend to purify the air for animals or men. So, if you have a room with a plant in it, the air is purer. The house of a sleeping room is better.

Dinner Stories

White-haired Uncle Peleg Parkins, known as the oldest person in his community, was standing by his gate when a touring car stopped close behind him. Several of the ladies in it asked numerous patronizing questions concerning the locality. Then one of them remarked: "You must have been around here quite a long time." Uncle Peleg slowly raised his stick and pointed toward a not distant mountain.

"Yes, marm," he said gravely, "I have so. You see that there big, high mountain over across? Well, the time I first came here that there mountain wasn't but just about the bigness of an ant hill."

The night cashier overheard a peculiar conversation in Deaver Crossing the other day. A farmer was in a store buying some groceries. "Want any flour?" asked the grocer. "No, flour's too high. I can get along without it."

After a while the grocer said: "Sold you some flour, didn't I?" "Nope! I'm going to hang onto this flour," they ain't payin' nothin' for it yet."

"Yes, marm," said Mary. "I'm going to leave you. I don't like that slip of a dude that calls on Miss Mabel."

"The ideal" exclaimed her mistress; "he doesn't call to see you, so you don't know he don't want you, but I'm afraid one of the neighbors might think he does."

"Well," said the waiter to the restaurant patron, who had just had his coffee cup refilled for the seventh time, "you must be very fond of coffee."

"Yes, indeed," answered the patron, "I wouldn't be drinking so much water to get a little."

ENFORCEMENT IN FAR EAST PUZZLE

Who Will Keep "Open Door" Open. Question at Conference.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
Copyright 1921, by Janesville Gazette.

Washington. Who will keep the "open door" in China open? How will the four principles written by Elihu Root and now adopted by all the nine powers interested in the far east be enforced?

These questions touch the most delicate phase of the whole far eastern problem and on the answer to them, it is now admitted by some of the spokesmen of the foreign powers, depends the success of the conference.

Number one of Mr. Root's principles carries a mutual pledge that "it is the firm intention of the conference, to respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial and administrative integrity of China."

The famous article 19 of the covenant of the league of nations was worked in the United States senate because it carried a mutual pledge "to respect and preserve the territorial integrity of the states which are members of the league."

The Chinese delegates originally proposed that the first principle should read "to respect and observe the territorial integrity of China, but not to observe" as perhaps too close to the word "preserve."

There is much comment in conference quarters on the significant omission of all reference to means of enforcement of the four Root principles, which include not merely respect for China's territorial integrity and independence, but also a promise that these powers would consult with each other and advise upon the means of carrying out the pledge.

Ousted Chief Makes Word Good; Wins City's Faith

Cleveland.—The election of Fred Kohler as mayor of this city is the culmination of a fight for rehabilitation that reads like fiction.

Displaced as chief of police in 1913, Kohler has made good his word, uttered on the day he left that office, that "Cleveland shall be a better city than it was."

His fight for this vote of confidence and belief in his worth as a leader and the fact that he will be the last mayor the city will have, are interesting figures nationally once more.

The voters, at the same election, voted to adopt the city manager plan to take effect in 1924.

Kohler, running as an independent, defeated the present mayor, Fitzgerald, and five other candidates.

As chief of police Kohler gained national-wide attention. The late Theodore Roosevelt, when president, referred to Kohler as "the golden rule" adopted by the chief drew the attention of city authorities and police heads all over the country.

Under Kohler's long and successful administration, the city has been transformed from a place of lawlessness to one of order and peace.

First offenders in minor matters were released without being held for appearance in court. The number of unduly arrests was reduced to a minimum.

Known crooks, thugs and "hard characters" were dealt with firmly, however.

Rise Is Rapid.
Kohler's rise is rapid. He was born in Cleveland May 2, 1864. He had little schooling. At nine he was apprenticed to a marble cutter. Then he became a core-maker.

The police department at that time was in a state of lawlessness. Kohler joined the force July 16, 1889. Fourteen years later, at thirty-nine, he was made chief of Tom L. Johnson, who had replaced Kohler as chief of police.

When he was dismissed from the force in 1913 his efficiency as police chief was immediately after being ousted he instituted a fight to rehabilitate himself in the estimation of his fellow townsmen.

His determination to win back the confidence of his fellow townsmen was manifest from the beginning. He ran for council the year of his dismissal. He received the most first choice votes, but was defeated by a narrow margin.

Elected Commissioner.
The following year he was elected for the Republican nomination for sheriff. That was his last municipal post until 1918. He got his foot on the first rung of the ladder the following year when he won the Republican nomination for county commissioner.

"I'll quit politics when the party will give me a decent burial," was his ultimatum; and those who knew him best understood that he meant nothing less than the position as head of the municipality would satisfy him.

But still he was unsuccessful. In the November elections he was defeated. His run, however, presaged success to come. Two years later, when he was elected county commissioner, he broke a long Democratic control of county offices and was the first Republican in eight years to find an office in the court house.

Leads State Ticket.
He was re-elected county commissioner in 1920 and led the state ticket with a vote of 137,782, leading Alva R. Dickrite, the next successful candidate, by more than 10,000 votes. In all three campaigns, those of 1916, 1918 and 1920, he led the Republican ticket in the primaries.

Kohler had his eye on the Republican endorsement for mayor. This was the first time since 1913 that the Republican party had endorsed a candidate for mayor.

WALWORTH COUNTY BOARD BUSINESS

Complete Report of Long Session—Big Program of County Work.

Elkhorn.—The November session of the Walworth County Board is usually concluded in four days. This year, however, the Board, which met at the County Office, closed its session on Tuesday, Nov. 23. The Board is composed of 33 members, 31 of whom attended every session and all of whom were present at some time during the meeting.

The Board had held a special meeting earlier in the year for organization, so that the work of the session was gotten under way the first day.

Income Assessor's Resigns.
Assessor of Incomes, J. C. Kerk, who lives in Whitewater, has resigned, his resignation to take effect on Jan. 1, and the Board immediately adopted a resolution commending his work and asking the Tax Commission to continue him in office.

The accumulated accounts for the year, totaling $4,504.54, were referred to the committee and later allowed at $1,175.35. The largest number of claims was for damages done by dogs. Among them was one for killing 50 sheep belonging to G. P. Grebel, who lives in the town of East Troy. The sheep were confined in a small pasture some distance from the house and in one night the dogs killed the entire flock. The Board allowed the claim at $220.

Two Whitewater banks, two from Elkhorn and one from Delavan, have for county deposits each agreeing to pay 2 per cent on daily balances and also pay for the surety bond for the county treasurer. As a result, all five banks were eligible as possible. The interest on deposits has come to be a source of considerable revenue to the county, amounting to $7,137.06 for the year ending June 30, 1921. The rate for the present year is 3 1/2 per cent.

Death of John Agern.
The death of Supervisor John Agern, of Lake Geneva, east a cloud of sorrow over the session. He had attended the meeting on Tuesday apparently in perfect health, but was taken sick and died that evening. He had been a member of the board for four years.

At the election of county officers and committees the following were chosen:

Charles E. Loan, Whitewater, Supt. of Poor and Asylum, trustee for a term of three years.

Dr. M. V. Dewire, Sharon, member of the Committee on Common Schools for a term of three years.

E. C. Woodford, Darlen, E. W. Taylor, LaGrange and J. C. Brennan, Linn, County State and Bridge Committee for one year.

Edw. Kinne, Elkhorn, Examiner of Blind and Deaf.

Mrs. Grover Kull, Bloomfield, member of County Health Committee.

The Equalization Committee reported a county valuation of $77,451,000, an increase of $9,515,000 over 1920 and an increase of $2,000,000 over 1919.

The report was in accordance with the figures of the Assessor of Incomes and was adopted without a dissenting vote.

Rural Planning Committee.
The Rural Planning Committee reported that a desirable piece of property near Lake Geneva had been offered the committee for a cost of $4,000. It contains 3 acres of fine timber and the committee at first decided to recommend buying, but later determined to lay the matter over for another year, because of present unsettled conditions.

This committee has done much investigating and has given the matter of public parks a lot of thought, and for the future includes public parks and camping grounds on Geneva, Delavan, Boscawen, Lauderdale and Turtle lakes.

The program, however, means an expenditure of thousands of dollars and it will be years before the program can be carried to completion.

The report on the county farm and asylum showed an expenditure of $47,507.49 for the year ending June 30. This is practically the same as the preceding year although the cost per capita for caring for inmates has increased from $5.55 to $5.78 per week in the asylum and in the poor house from $5.40 to $6.37.

An appropriation of $25,000 is made for caring for the poor and insane, the balance of the amount needed coming from the earnings of the institution.

Budgets Voted.
The Board voted to continue its membership in the Wisconsin County Boards Association and to give the Chairman and Vice-Chairman per diem and expenses providing they should attend the annual meeting in Eau Claire next February.

The budget voted for the County Supt. of Schools totals $1,255 and includes $500 for the Supt.'s salary and $755 for deputy. The balance is for travel and other expenses.

About the only contest in the work of the Board was over the budget for the County Health Nurse. The $4,000 included $1,200 salary for the nurse, $800 for assistant, $750 for an automobile and the remainder for expenses.

After several days of argument the appropriation was passed and the matter of salary was left to the Public Health Committee.

A statute enacted by the last legislature requires county boards to authorize the treasurer to buy all tax certificates at the annual tax sale in the name of the county.

Walworth County Board adopted what above the average for the state, but on valuation it is far below.

The finance committee offered for appropriations as follows:

Expense budget for 1922, $35,000. Salaries of officers and employees, $25,990.

The Committee on Public Property recommended that the interior of the county court building, erected in 1906, be redecorated and $3,000 was appropriated for the purpose.

Total County Budget.
The Finance Committee's budget totalled approximately $540,000 for school for the deaf, Delavan, will be among the speakers. The law provides that the school clerk and members of the board may attend and draw a per diem of $1.03 per mile for travel.

Next Monday night, 29, of the members go to Delavan to play 500 with the experts from that town. The losers will have to pay for the supper.

Direct taxation. An increase of $92,000 over 1920. The increase is due entirely to the additional highway taxes. There is a large falling off in income taxes.

Of course the most important matter before the Board was the highway construction program for the ensuing year. It includes 33 miles of 18-foot concrete and 3 miles of gravel road at an estimated cost of $1,500,000. The proposition met with little opposition and on roll call 27 voted for and 4 against adoption. Later on the resolution providing for the issuing of $1,100,000 highway bonds was carried unanimously.

The bond of the county treasurer was fixed at $500,000 and the depositary bond at $500,000.

The Board adjourned to Tuesday, Jan. 24.

TUBERCULOSIS LESS IN CATTLE OF STATE

Madison.—The past three months have brought a marked increase in tuberculosis eradication work among cattle. C. E. Norgard, commissioner of agriculture, says in his quarterly report, Wisconsin has stepped ahead as the leading state of the nation in eradicating the cattle of tuberculosis, he points out.

There are now 1,369 fully accredited herds, 1,558 once tested, and 3,224 herds under supervision in the state, totaling 614,330 cattle.

The report declares that a serious situation with regard to horn cholera has developed due to the anxiety of horn breeders. A heavy corn crop has resulted in a stimulated movement of feeder hogs, it says, and has brought the danger of an epidemic of cholera.
